

Call for institutional members—We need your support

The Nordic Association for Hydrology (NHF), as the only hydrology professional association overarching five Nordic and three Baltic countries, has been active for more than 50 years. We are proud of the good spirit and the tradition networking, cooperating, promoting as well as supporting each other both in practice in the field and in research work and development in the water sector.

In the new era full of new challenges for water, environment and ecology, we strongly believe we can do more to contribute in solving and resolving these societal challenges. But we need to be stronger to meet the challenges, and we believe your support will help us and the society to be stronger.

This is a special call for institutional members! Through your valuable support as institutional member, we can do much more together for the Nordic society for its sustainable development!
